LEADERS IN SERVICE

THE QUARTERLY PUBLICATION OF

FROM THE FRATERNITY

Brothers,

It is that time of year when we welcome a whole new group of brothers into the ranks of alumni membership in Alpha Phi Omega. In reality, we have just a short time to be active, but the rest of our lives to continue as alumni members of this Fraternity. So, in the spirit of congratulating our newest graduates as they become alumni brothers of APO, I would like to take this opportunity to highlight some of the incredible things our alumni and alumni associations are doing to support our Fraternity and its mission.

First and foremost, the Fraternity owes a debt of gratitude to the hundreds of alumni volunteers all over the country who work tirelessly to support our chapters and the Fraternity's programs. Without your continued service, dedication and support, we could not do what we do. On behalf of our members, I say THANK YOU for your continued leadership and service to the Fraternity!

However, even if you are not a volunteer in the Fraternity, there are still many opportunities to remain connected with APO through membership in one of our many alumni associations. Increasingly, our alumni associations are providing critical support for our members and chapters, and they are also providing opportunities for alumni to continue to serve and make a difference in their communities, just as we did as actives.

Whether you become an alumni volunteer, join an alumni association or just continue to live out our principles of Leadership, Friendship and Service on a daily basis wherever you are, I wish our newest graduates and all of our alumni nothing but the best as you continue to support our Fraternity's mission through your actions.

Fraternally,

Hon. John K. Ottenad
National President

Brother and Archivist Emeritus Bob Barkhurst passes away at 71

It is with great sadness and profound respect that Alpha Phi Omega National Service Fraternity recognizes the passing of Brother and Archivist Emeritus Robert “Bob” Barkhurst, Pi Beta ’65.

Brother Barkhurst of West Dundee, Illinois, died on April 5, 2016, at the age of 71.

Brother Barkhurst’s relationship with the Fraternity began in 1965 when he initiated as a charter member of Pi Beta Chapter at the University of Dubuque. He was a chapter officer and a delegate to the 1966 National, 1967 Constitutional and 1968 National conventions.

He was elected as the first Region IX Director in 1968, and from 1972 to 1990, he served as vice chairman of Section 26, Nebraska; chairman and vice chairman of Section 21, Iowa; and chairman of Section 27, Wisconsin. From 1981 to 2014, he was the National Archivist for the Fraternity for which he created a historical display for each National Convention.

During his time with APO, Brother Barkhurst was recognized with the Region IX Distinguished Service Key in 1981, Alumni Distinguished Service Key in 1982 and National Distinguished Service Award in 1990. He was named the National Fall Pledge Class Namesake Honoree in 2000 and was an instrumental member of the Fraternity’s 75th Anniversary Committee.

Given Bob’s love for history, memorial gifts can be made to APO’s Leaders in Service Campaign, History Museum Project. To make a gift in memory of Brother Barkhurst, please visit the following link and specify “History Museum Project” in the ‘additional information’ dialogue box. <https://www.apo.org/give/leadersinservicecampaign/donatenow>

He is currently the National President of the BSA, the Chancellor of the College of William and Mary, and a principal in the consulting firm, RiceHadleyGates, LLC.

Brother Tillerson earned the rank of Eagle Scout in 1965 and initiated with the Fraternity with Alpha Rho Chapter at the University of Texas at Austin in 1971. He is a past president of the BSA and is currently the president, chairman and CEO of Exxon Mobil Corporation.

13.1 Miles for

APO's 90th Anniversary Service Project with The Jared Box Project

In celebration of Alpha Phi Omega's 90th Anniversary, this spring, chapters nationwide made an impact by serving the children at their local hospitals with The Jared Box Project. Shoebox-size containers filled with games, toys and well wishes were assembled and delivered to young patients to help ease the pain and fears associated with undergoing medical treatments.

"Thousands of boxes have been made and given to children across the United States. The toys are just a conversation starter. Our purpose is to give these kids a reason to smile," says service committee chair David Amelotti. "The greatest part of our national service event is that it has laid the foundation for a strong relationship with The Jared Box Project for brothers to utilize and grow for years to come."

Chapters were asked to share their projects via social media with the hashtags #aposerves90 and #thejaredboxproject to increase the online awareness of APO and its efforts as a whole.

SETTING THE PACE

An alternative option for participation in the 90th Anniversary Service Project was developed after Brother Brian Martin, Alpha Delta '95, proposed his idea for the APO Virtual Half Marathon, a fundraiser in support of The Jared Box Project organization. Brother Martin serves as an advisor for the National Convention Committee and is the Chapter Advisory Chair for Alpha Zeta Rho Chapter at Defiance College and Zeta Lambda Chapter at the University of Toledo.

"A high school classmate of mine had done something similar to raise funds in the battle against Autism while she was training for the Chicago Marathon," says Brother Martin. "I was a bit hesitant in pitching the idea to others, but it got great support from within the Alpha Phi Omega leadership."

As the premier, collegiate service-based organization, Alpha Phi Omega saw a need in support of The Jared Box Project's mission. Proceeds from the fundraiser will be donated directly to The Jared Box Project to assist with administrative costs to ultimately help the organization put more smiles on more faces.

The virtual half marathon was designed to allow brothers of any skill level to take part in the event. Participants registered for a fee and pledged to complete 13.1 miles on their own time, in their respective locations and in as many increments as needed. Some ran; some walked. Some entered charity runs and some calculated the distance of their nightly jogs, but all completed 13.1 miles in the name of service. Each runner received a custom finisher's medal and a thank you letter from National President John K. Ottenad.

The event, advertised through the APO National Facebook page, was a huge success. Participation numbers could not be estimated for this inaugural event, but once the registrations began to accumulate, a goal of 150 registrants was set. That goal was met and exceeded with a total of 185 registrations! This includes 132 alumni, 28 students and 25 non-members representing over 100 chapters from 32 states and Puerto Rico. A total of $5,000 will be presented to The Jared Box Project later this year.

"I was amazed to see my brothers from across the country start the social media buzz once the event went public," says Brother Martin. "They were encouraging each other to join in and become a part of the movement."

"The challenge to the Fraternity was to make a positive impact. To be creative. Together, brothers are capable; they can make an impact," says Brother Amelotti. "From individual toy drives held by chapters to the Virtual Half Marathon, all are incredible, sensational testaments to LFS. We are capable and we clearly made an impact."

Due to the tremendous response from the Brotherhood, Brother Martin hopes to hold a second annual APO Virtual Half Marathon in 2017. Stay tuned for more information regarding the recipient organization and registration details. ■

FINANCIAL SUMMARY

Maybe the most significant financial accomplishment this fiscal year was awarding 77 John Mack Scholarships to student members. This represents an increase of 122 percent over the previous year. In partnering with the Alpha Phi Omega Endowment, the John Mack Scholarship Fund continues to grow, which allows the Fraternity to offer more scholarships every year. With careful stewardship, the Fraternity continues to operate without needing to raise student fees and dues. As costs continue to rise in all areas, we have been able to see increased revenues through membership growth, affinity and royalty programs, and sound investments. We finished this year with net revenue of $125,197 which goes into our operating reserves.

While there is always fluctuation in our various membership categories (pledge, initiate, AAMD), we maintained our overall student membership numbers of just under 28,000 students (27,947).

There are many ways for donors to engage in supporting APO to ensure that opportunities remain abundant for college students for generations. In this fiscal year, 8.4 percent of the Fraternity's revenue was generated from the Torchbearer Fund. These contributions are vital to the daily operations of the Fraternity and are utilized for chapter support, publications and leadership programs as well as other general programming needs.

Affinity and royalty programs provided combined revenues of $68,043. This is $7,043 greater than budgeted. We continue to work with a third party to manage our licensing program and have over 200 licensed vendors around the country.

Investments and earnings provided additional total revenues of $14,592.

Leadership program revenues exceeded expectations by $28,585. With increased revenues, we were able to spend more than anticipated on leadership programming this fiscal year.

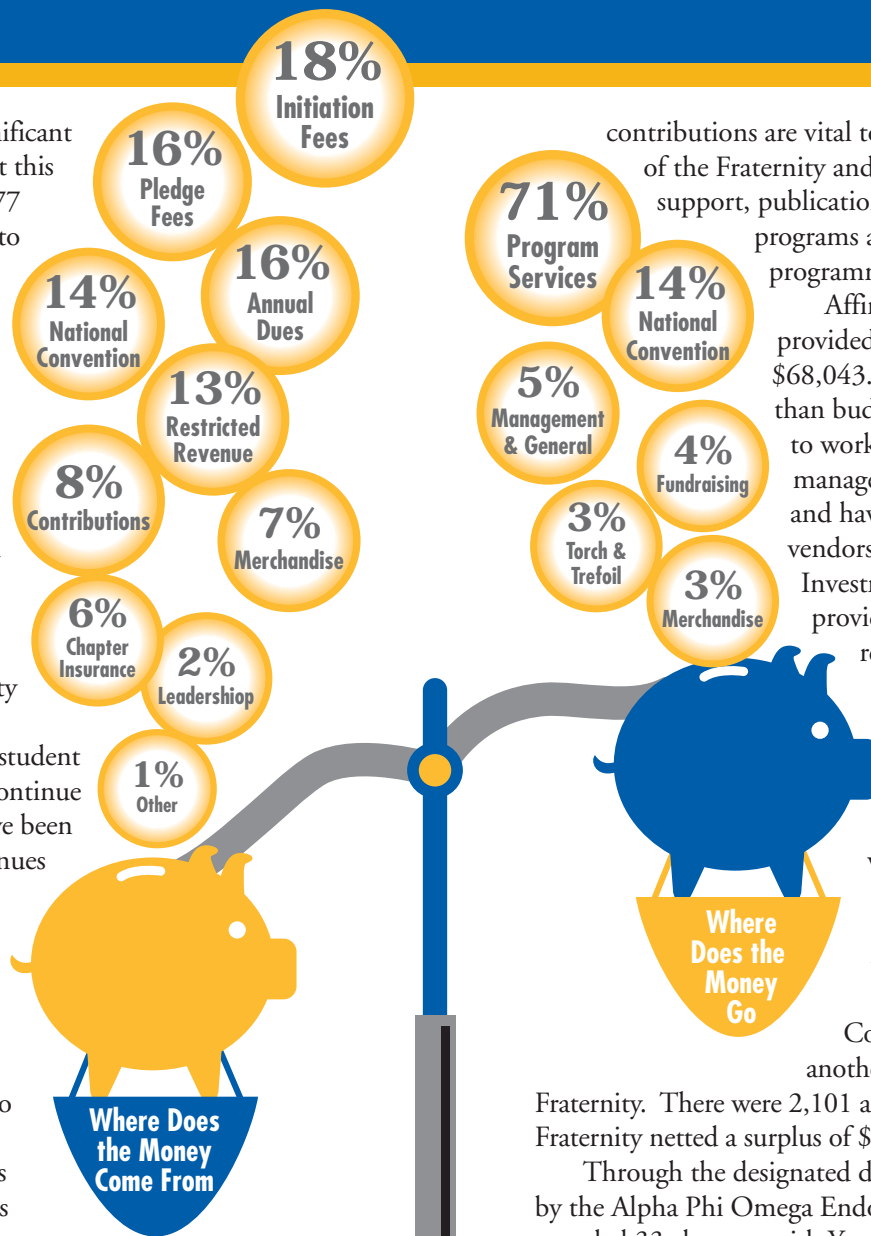

The 2014 National Convention in Chicago was another success for the Fraternity. There were 2,101 attendees overall, and the Fraternity netted a surplus of $6,823.

Through the designated donor funds managed by the Alpha Phi Omega Endowment, the Fraternity awarded 33 chapters with Youth Service Grants. These grants are used as seed money for service projects geared toward youth, such as Girl Scout Badge Days; Boy Scout Merit Badge University; The Jared Box Project; and art, reading and science programs in schools.

Providing leadership and service opportunities to active members and alumni is by far the largest expenditure for the Fraternity.

alumni were provided with three additional face-to-face learning and fellowship opportunities in 2014-15. The National Volunteer Conference was held at the end of the fiscal year. Over 190 alumni attended the event in Baltimore, Maryland. There were 36 workshops offered supporting the theme “Why I Volunteer.”

Alumni were also provided with opportunities to participate in BOLD (Brothers of the Last Decade): one in New York City and the second in Boston. The events were especially helpful to recent graduates. Professional assistance was provided for updating resumes and employment portfolios, including a professional photo headshot.

Alpha Phi Omega thanks you for your continued support and commitment to the Fraternity. ■
