SPRING 1975

TAU UPSILON ACHIEVES 100% LIFE MEMBERSHIP

Tau Upsilon Chapter, University of Wisconsin-Platteville, became the first Chapter in the Fraternity to reach the goal of registering 100% of its active Brothers as Life Members of the Fraternity.

In early March, the 21 Active members of the Chapter submitted their Life Membership Applications and fees to the National Office, thereby expressing their lifelong commitment to Alpha Phi Omega.

Tau Upsilon has long had a fine service program, both on the campus and in the community. One of their most recent ventures was providing instruction and guidance on merit badges for the Scouts of the U.S. Grant District of the Blackhawk Area Council. Pooling their talents, the Brothers offered thirty-one merit badge courses. Much work went into the preparation of displays, lectures and special programs for this Merit Badge Pow Wow. More than 150 Platteville Scouts participated.

This outstanding program, and the demonstration of dedication to the Fraternity, is truly in the Alpha Phi Omega spirit.

H. ROE BARTLE CHAPTER AWARD

H. ROE BARTLE

The National Awards Committee has developed a new award which will enable chapters to conduct an annual program review — The H. Roe Bartle Chapter Award. Named for our esteemed Past National President, who passed away last Spring, the award is designed to honor those chapters achieving success in 10 areas.

Report forms were mailed to each chapter in mid-March. In completing these forms, each chapter will determine its own eligibility for the award. The report covers 10 areas of the chapter program and administration, and is designed to enable chapters to focus on strengths and weaknesses and develop a stronger chapter program as a result.

Theoretically, every active chapter should, if conducting its program properly, receive this award. We can think of no finer way to honor the "Chief" than by striving for an outstanding chapter program in his name.

On December 16, 1975, Alpha Phi Omega will celebrate 50 years of Service to the College Campuses of America. The accomplishments of the past half-century bear witness to the farsightedness of our Founding Members.

Since 1925, Alpha Phi Omega Chapters have been chartered on 572 campuses throughout the land, from Puerto Rico to Alaska, from Maine to Hawaii. Nearly 140,000 men have pledged themselves to our principles of Leadership, Friendship, and Service. 6000 of the 140,000 have become Life Members of the Fraternity, while other thousands through the years have served as volunteers for the Fraternity. Still others have supported the Fraternity financially, so that the opportunity for Service through Alpha Phi Omega might be assured for future generations. The example set by Alpha Phi Omega in the United States spawned Alphi Phi Omega of the Philippines, now numbering nearly 100 chapters. Ours is a rich legacy.

The celebration of our Golden Anniversary ought to be, as so well stated by the Golden Anniversary Committee at the 1974 National Convention, a reflection on the past, but even more importantly, an examination of what the future can and should hold for Alpha Phi Omega. To these ends all of us should address ourselves. All 10 Regions are planning Regional meetings next Fall to celebrate this historic occasion. Sections and chapters should also develop means of commemorating the 50th Anniversary of our birth. Together we can insure that our second 50 years are even more meaningful.

A Cry for Help

by TAU RHO CHAPTER
DEL MAR COLLEGE

At noon on the 26th of September, we were approached by one of the foreign students at Del Mar. She had just received a phone call from an American missionary with a message from her family. "Only two days of food left," was the news Shirley Bodden received. Her family and several hundred others were faced with the same problem after the recent destruction of Hurricane Fifi to their island of Roatan, Honduras. We also learned that during the last big storm that hit their island, the food being shipped in from other countries never left the mainland and her island received no aid. The letter her mother wrote told of the island sending a boat to the mainland for emergency supplies, but the boat returned empty. After hearing of the desperate situation of our friends, the members of Tau Rho decided to do what they could do and "A CRY FOR HELP" was put into action.

The first thing we did was to contact the local news media. Several radio stations put out public service announcements, as did two television stations. The other TV station presented the project on the six and ten o'clock news.

The Corpus Christi Caller-Times printed the full story on the front page of the local news section. They agreed to follow the story until it ended. Even the college newspaper, The Foghorn, got into the act by printing the story in their next issue, leaving out another story. We received front page coverage there and one of our members wrote the story for them. They also ran a follow-up story. On Sunday, two of the members went to the Domingo Pena Show, the most popular talk show in town. With all of this coverage, the community and surrounding areas were well aware of the dire situation. This project, originally to help only Roatan, now began to spread to the other small islands. A local shrimper from Freeport, Cerdido Bush, agreed to take the collected supplies to Honduras on his boat the "Isla Soy Como Soy (I am what I am)" at his own expense of several thousand dollars. The supplies were to be delivered to the many different religious missions on the islands.

By Sunday, we had collected and packed forty boxes of canned goods and baby food to be sent to the victims. The project was now in full swing. The response from the citizens was fantastic, as they remember a few years ago when Fifi's sister, Celia, came to Corpus Christi and shattered this Gulf Coast community. A lady from Ingleside, Tex. called to say she had some food, then called back to tell us she was starting to collect from her community. A truck was sent to pick up what she had collected. People left as much as $90.00 at the local food stores for us to purchase the foods we felt were needed by the victims. We even had a few salesmen call to give surplus food and samples. A man gave two car-loads of cookies and crackers which were packed into different groups, each destined for a different mission. The use of an empty warehouse in downtown Corpus was also donated for a central headquarters and assembly area. Some different businesses gave such things as empty boxes, cord for tying them, and the much needed strapping tape. One man walked in off the street and handed us some large printed signs saying, "A CRY FOR HELP." Nothing was turned down. We later expanded to accept clothes for the poor areas or for those who lost their homes. We went to the area food stores and asked for donations such as their dented cans which are not normally sale items. We even got a local convalescent hospital to dip into their emergency supplies and give us a case of one-gallon cans of soup. The congregation of the Protestant Chapel at the Naval Air Station gave the drive about $400.00 worth of food items, baby food, and formulas. A country-music night club donated one night's proceeds from the door to the drive. A total of $286.00 donated in cash was turned over to the Catholic Relief Services for Honduras Relief to be used for purchase of food and medical supplies. A woman's organization in one part of town began collecting for us and other church groups donated their services in the packing process. Students in the various community schools took up collections of food or money from fellow students to give to the drive.

By the 7th of October, we had enough collected to take two full truck loads 200 miles to Freeport for loading into the shrimp boat. Four Tau Rho members left Corpus Christi at four-thirty in the afternoon and two did not return until four o'clock next morning after unloading one truck and driving most of the night in order to make it back for classes. The other two remained in Freeport until noon the next day, loading the shrimper and the Dean of Students had them excused from classes. They did not return until late that afternoon. The use of one truck was donated by a dealer in town. We had to pay only for the gas. Mr. Bush, the boat owner, estimated we had collected over 28,000 pounds of food and clothes to send to the Fifi victims. It would now take the three shrimp boats going to Honduras another five days before they would reach the islands. All we could do now was return home and pray our efforts would help them in their ordeal — their "Cry For Help!"

During the course of this project, the 12 members of Tau Rho Chapter labored almost 1800 hours, at the same time keeping up with school work, working on full-time jobs, carrying on other community activities and fulfilling military commitments. New friends were acquired, and a high level of esteem was rightfully bestowed on our fraternity, Alpha Phi Omega.

Tau Rho members, Kathy Roduner, George Smith and Joe Mosier load goods headed for Honduras.

Regional Representatives

These ten men serve Alpha Phi Omega in the capacity of Regional Representatives. Each Region is composed of approximately 40 chapters, and each is headed by a Regional Representative, elected by the chapters of the respective Regions.

Nearly all of these Brothers have served as chapter presidents and Sectional Chairmen. All bring to the Fraternity substantial leadership experience which will be valuable in this role. Most of them are recent graduates; all have expressed a willingness to go the extra mile for the Fraternity.

Regional Representatives are members of the National Board of Directors. They are responsible for working with and through Sectional Chairmen. Each of them serves as a member of the National Extension Committee and will work to strengthen the general Alpha Phi Omega program and the Sections of their Region.

• THETA ETA — KANSAS CITY COLLEGE OF OSTEOPATHIC MEDICINE

At the Second Annual Health Fair sponsored by Shepherd's Center, a multipurpose center for older persons in Kansas City, THETA ETA CHAPTER, KANSAS CITY COLLEGE OF OSTEOPATHIC MEDICINE, assisted the center by conducting blood pressure tests for men and breast cancer tests for women. Sixty men were screened for blood pressure problems and the presence of heart murmurs. Ten men were referred to physicians for high blood pressure, and several were found to have heart murmurs. Of the two hundred and twenty women tested, ten were referred to their family physicians or clinics for further testing. The chapter may be contacted at Kansas City College of Osteopathic Medicine, 210 Garfield, APO #5, Kansas City, Missouri 64124.

• DELTA SIGMA — UNIVERSITY OF CONNECTICUT

The University of Connecticut's Campus Community Carnival is an annual charity drive co-sponsored by the Brothers of DELTA SIGMA CHAPTER and the Sisters of Gamma Sigma Sigma. Close to forty charities of local, state, national and international level solicit funds through the Carnival. In its 27 year history over $220,000 has been raised for these charities.

The major events of C.C.C., sponsored directly by the Executive Board, are held during C.C.C. week early in the spring of each year. These events include the 84-hour WHUS Radio Marathon and the carnival-like Midway. The Radio Marathon is co-sponsored by the campus radio station, WHUS, and the Executive Board. It is a campus favorite and the biggest money raiser. The Midway consists of booths, displays, games, and rides which are directly run by dormitories and student organizations. At the 1974 National Convention, Delta Sigma was presented the Arno Nowotny National Service Award for this project. For more information contact Delta Sigma at University of Connecticut, Student Union Building, Box U-8, Storrs, Connecticut 06268.

• ZETA GAMMA - VALPARAISO UNIVERSITY

The Brothers of ZETA GAMMA, VALPARAISO UNIVERSITY, will attempt this Spring to break their world record bed-pushing mark of 850 miles by pushing a brass bed through the streets of Valparaiso. In addition to their plans to break the record, the Chapter hopes to raise $5,000 for the Porter

County Heart Association through pledges and donations. The Chapter received the Volunteer of the Year Award from the city of Valparaiso last year for service volunteered to the Community. To find out if they were successful, write to Zeta Gamma at Valparaiso University, Box 267, Valparaiso, Indiana 46383.

• NU DELTA - LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE

In the planning stages by NU DELTA CHAPTER, LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE, is another Helping Hands Weekend for the retarded citizens of Lebanon County. The Chapter is hoping to raise even more funds than last year's total of $7,000. For more information, write to Nu Delta at Lebanon Valley College, College Center, Box 281, Annville, Pennsylvania 17003.

Col. and Mrs. Young pose with the Brothers of Psi Omicron at their first annual Founder's Day Celebration.

• PSI OMICRON - MOREHOUSE COLLEGE

In early February, PSI OMICRON, MOREHOUSE COLLEGE, celebrated its first anniversary with a Founder's Day Program. Past National President Lucius E. Young and Mrs. Young joined the Brothers for this occasion, and Col. Young addressed the Morehouse student body. The festivities also included the induction of Dr. Martin Luther King, Sr., Walt Bellamy of the Atlanta Hawks, and Julian Bond, Georgia legislator, as Honorary Members of Alpha Phi Omega. Congratulations may be addressed to Psi Omicron at Morehouse College, Box 117, Atlanta, Georgia 30314.

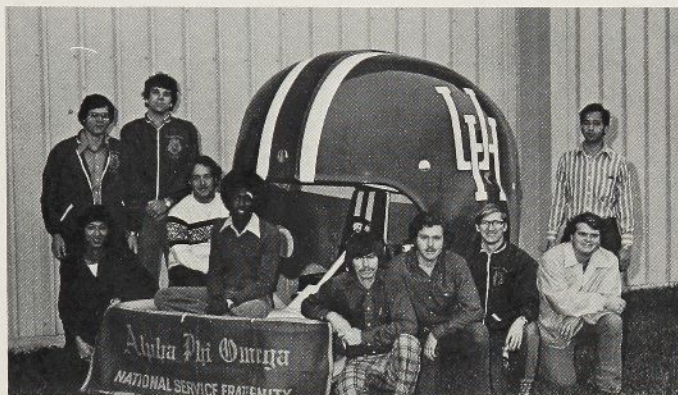

• EPSILON ZETA - RENSSELAER POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE

To commemorate the 150th Anniversary of RENSSELAER POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE, EPSILON ZETA CHAPTER set up a scholarship fund for a freshman who has shown outstanding service during his high school career. In addition, when the R.P.I. library was faced with dropping a number of journals because of budget cuts, the chapter conducted a fund raising project for the library. By their example, they hope that other campus organizations will join in their efforts to maintain the quality of education at R.P.I. Contact Epsilon Zeta for more information at Room 235, Rensselaer Union, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N.Y. 12180.

• KANSAS CITY ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

On April 26, 1975, the KANSAS CITY ALUMNI ASSOCIATION will sponsor an APO Day at Worlds of Fun Amusement Park in Kansas City. Designed to get undergraduates and alumni together, this is the first undertaking of the newly formed association. Leading the project and association are Bob Reynolds, an alumnus of Pi Chapter, Kansas State University, and Ed Mulick, alumnus of Gamma Xi Chapter, Rockhurst College.

Delta Omega Brothers and the University of Houston Football Buggy.

• DELTA OMEGA - UNIVERSITY OF HOUSTON

One of the newest projects of DELTA OMEGA CHAPTER, UNIVERSITY OF HOUSTON, is sponsoring the University of Houston Football Buggy. The Chapter is responsible for transporting the buggy to football games and other campus activities. It is also used for campus tours for VIPS. The buggy is owned by the Alumni Federation, but Delta Omega takes full responsibility for transportation and maintenance. It has been a big boost, helping both chapter membership and publicity. For more information, write Delta Omega at University of Houston, Box 104, University Station, Houston, Texas 77044.

• ALPHA PHI - UNIVERSITY OF MIAMI

The Brothers of ALPHA PI, UNIVERSITY OF MIAMI, saw tons of snow over the holidays. Only one thing was unusual — the snow was on their campus. As a service project, Alpha Pi assisted the Lowe Art Museum, which imported the snow, with a weekend of snow fun for children who live near the University. Write to Alpha Pi at University of Miami, Box 8234, Coral Gables, Florida 33124.

• ALPHA TAU - BUTLER

Reactivated last Spring, ALPHA TAU CHAPTER, BUTLER UNIVERSITY, reports an active campus service program. The Brothers provide a tour guide service to prospective students, man an information booth to assist new students, and plan to set up Campus maps at several strategic points on the Butler Campus to guide and direct visitors. For more information contact Alpha Tau at Butler University, Office of Student Activities, 460 Sunset Ave., Indianapolis, Indiana 46208.

• ALPHA DELTA - SAN DIEGO STATE

An editorial in the Daily Aztec, the student newspaper, praised the outstanding services provided by ALPHA DELTA, SAN DIEGO STATE UNIVERSITY. Among the more notable projects described was the establishment of an escort service for women who must walk to and from, or across, the campus at night. To learn more about the project, write to Alpha Delta at San Diego State University, Organization Center, San Diego, California 92115.

• MU ALPHA - GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY

Every Spring, MU ALPHA CHAPTER, GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY, provides security for the Model United Nations, sponsored by the International Relations Club at Georgetown. The 4 day event, which requires a real commitment on the part of the Chapter, attracts more than 1200 high school students from throughout the United States. Mu Alpha may be contacted at Georgetown University, Box 2116 Copley, Washington, DC 20007.

• GAMMA - CORNELL

A project which has gained a great deal of publicity for GAMMA CHAPTER, CORNELL UNIVERSITY, is its Semi-Sporadic Annual Super Colossal Trivia Contest. The contest, conducted each Fall and Spring, attracts a large number of teams from the campus and has inspired a booklet about Trivia Contests. For information on how to conduct a Trivia Contest, contact Gamma at Cornell University, Willard Straight Hall, Room 21, Ithaca, N.Y. 14850.

• BETA - UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH

In a recent fund raising campaign for the Heart Fund, Brother Dennis Viscusi of BETA CHAPTER, UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH, won the ice cream eating contest. As a part of the event, Beta Chapter donated $.25 for each scoop of ice cream he ate, raising $50.00 for the Heart Fund. The Chapter also conducted a Hoagie sale as a part of the Drive. Beta may be reached at University of Pittsburgh, Box 513, Schenley Hall, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15213.

• TAU ETA - SUNY A & T AT COBLESKILL

On Saturday March 15th, TAU ETA CHAPTER, SUNY A & T at COBLESKILL sponsored a Lengths for Lives Swimathon for the National Cancer Society and collected over $2,035.00 in pledged money. Swimmers were sponsored by people who pledged a certain amount of money per length swam. The most a person was allowed to swim was 72 lengths, and most of the swimmers completed all 72. A 13 year old raised $84.00 and a 14 year old girl raised $90.00, both completing 72 lengths. To find out how to set up a Swimathon, contact Tau Eta at Box 55-118, SUNY, Cobleskill, N.Y. 12043.
